

Directions on how to get to GEMTEC

We are located north of Stuttgart. The distance from the airport to our place is approximately 35 kilometers. If you are familiar with finding your way when driving in Europe you can take a rental car. A taxi would also be fine, since it is not such a big distance between the airport and our place.

To get back to Frankfurt afterwards you can either drive back to the airport by car or taxi or you can take a local train from here to downtown Stuttgart and an Inter-City-Express-Train (ICE) to Frankfurt. It takes approximately the same time to go by train vs. flying.

In case you take a car, these are the directions:

From the airport you take B27 (look for yellow signs) to the center of Stuttgart. The road descends to Stuttgart quite a bit. Where the road doesn't descend any more and widens to three or four lanes (in the middle of Stuttgart) you need turn right onto B10 towards Ulm. After approximately four kilometers there will be a tunnel with three lanes. At the end of the tunnel B10 makes a right turn. After another kilometer you need to move to the right lane to get onto B14 towards Schwäbisch Hall / Nürnberg. On the right side you will see the Mercedes-Benz plant. Then you stay on B14 for quite some time. Follow the signs towards Schwäbisch Hall / Nürnberg. After approximately 21 kilometers take the exit Nellmersbach/Winnenden-Hertmannsweiler to get off B14. Turn left after 200 m. When you get to Winnenden-Hertmannsweiler, go straight at the stop-light and then turn left (just after driving by the car-wash) into a small street named Otto-Hahn-Strasse. Then immediately left again into our driveway. We are located in a white, two-stories-building next to the customs house (Zollamt).

To get here from Munich, you have to go on A8 towards Stuttgart. Take the exit named Wendlingen onto B313, direction Plochingen. After 6 kilometers exit left onto B10, direction Stuttgart.
